

Welcome to www.aurafinance.io (the “Site” or “Mobile Application”) owned and operated by Aura Finance (henceforward “Aura,” “we,” “us,” and/or, “our”). This Site has been created to provide information about our company and its web-based portfolio management services (the “Services”) to all users of the Site or Service who in any way use the Site or Mobile Application provided by Aura (in each case, a “User”). This service is available for residents of the United States only in states where Aura is registered.

Investing in securities involves risks, and there is always the potential of losing money when you invest in securities. Before investing, consider your investment objectives and Aura’s fees. Aura’s internet-based advisory services are designed to assist clients in achieving specific financial goals. Past performance does not guarantee future results, and the likelihood of investment outcomes are hypothetical in nature. They are not intended to provide comprehensive tax advice or financial planning with respect to every aspect of a client's financial situation and do not incorporate specific investments that clients may hold elsewhere. You should consult with a tax advisor. This is not an offer, solicitation of an offer, or advice to buy or sell securities in jurisdictions where Aura is not registered. For more details, see our Form CRS, Form ADV Part 2A Appendix 1 Wrap Fee Program Brochure, and other disclosures.

Asset allocation and diversification do not guarantee a profit or protect against a loss in a declining market. Aura’s outgoing and incoming emails are electronically archived and subject to review and/or disclosure to someone other than the recipient.

Eligibility:

You must be 18 or older, or of the legal age in your jurisdiction to form a binding contract in your jurisdiction if that age is greater than 18 years of age, to register as a user of Aura or to use the Aura services.

ETF Disclosures:

Investors should consider the investment objectives and unique risk profile of Exchange-Traded Funds (ETFs) carefully before investing. ETFs are subject to risks similar to those of other diversified portfolios. Leveraged and Inverse ETFs may not be suitable for all investors and may increase exposure to volatility using leverage, short sales of securities, derivatives, and other complex investment strategies. Although ETFs are designed to provide investment results that generally correspond to the performance of their respective underlying indices, tracking errors may occur. A prospectus contains this and other information about the ETF and should be read carefully before investing. Customers should obtain prospectuses from issuers and/or their third-party agents who distribute and make prospectuses available for review. ETFs are required to distribute portfolio gains to shareholders at year-end. These gains may be generated by portfolio rebalancing or the need to meet diversification requirements. ETF trading will also generate tax consequences.
